THE JOURNAL OF THE SOCIETY FOR INDUSTRIAL ARCHEOLOGY

Volume 34, Numbers 1 and 2   2008

EDITORIAL  ................................................................. 3

ARTICLES
Industrial Archeology and Art: Negotiating the Past and Present
Betsy Fahlman ................................................................. 5

“Under a Spreading Chestnut-Tree”: The Blacksmith and His Forge in Nineteenth-Century American Art
James C. Boyles ............................................................... 9

Cropsey’s Paintings of the “Fog Company” and the Industrial Riverside of Hastings-on-Hudson
Kenneth W. Maddox ......................................................... 25

John White Alexander’s Industrial Lunettes for the Pennsylvania State Capitol: The Unfinished Story
Mary Anne Goley ............................................................. 41

From Mayville to Milwaukee: The Visual Culture of the Iron and Steel Industry in Southeastern Wisconsin
John H. Kopmeier, Jr. ....................................................... 59

Maria Martinez, Industrial Designer
Cody Hartley ................................................................. 73

The Town That Photography Built: Images from the Consolidation Coal Company Photograph Collection, 1911–1946
Rosalind Shipley ............................................................ 87

From Monuments to Memory Sites: Representing Pennsylvania’s Anthracite Industry in Public Sculpture, 1855–2010
Jadwiga M. da Costa Nunes ............................................ 101

Connecticut’s Tobacco Industry: Harold Barbour, Jack Delano, and the WPA
Cynthia Roznoy ............................................................. 117

Midwestern Images of Labor: Wisconsin Artists and Their Portrayal of Industry
James R. Kieselburg, II ................................................... 135

Erich Merckner and “Technical Subjects”: Industrial Painting in the Eras of Weimar and Nazi Germany
Patrick J. Jung ............................................................... 149

REVIEWS
Betsy Fahlman Reviews Books on Art & Industry
The Arts of Industry in the Age of Enlightenment, by Celina Fox ............................................................. 165

Zinc Sculpture in America 1850–1950, by Carol A. Grissom ....................................................... 166

Labor’s Canvas: American Working-Class History and the WPA
Art of the 1930s, by Laura Hapke .................................. 168

Dismantling Geneva Steel: Photographs, by Chris Dunker, and Foundry Work: A View of the Industry, by Michael Schultz ......................................................... 170

The Railway: Art in the Age of Steam, by Ian Kennedy and Julian Treuherz ............................................................. 171

Vistas: Artists on the Canadian Pacific Railway, by Roger Boulet and Terry Fenton ................................................. 173

Other Reviews
Shut Down: Industrial Ruins in the East, by Christoph Lingg
Laura Hapke .............................................................. 175

Places in Mind: Public Archaeology as Applied Anthropology, ed.
by Paul Shackel and Erve J. Chambers .......................... 176
Handbook of Geophysics and Archaeology, by Alan J. Witten
Charles T. Young ......................................................... 178
Canal History and Technology Proceedings, Volume XXVII,
ed. by Lance Metz ....................................................... 179
Ship Lifts in Germany, by Eckhard Schinkel
Thomas X. Grassia ....................................................... 181
Hardy Cross: American Engineer, by Leonard K. Eaton
Justin M. Spivey ........................................................... 182
Henry Ford: An Interpretation, by Samuel S. Marquis, and My Forty Years with Ford, by Charles E. Sorensen
Lawrence D. Lankton .................................................... 183
The Fragile Fabric of Union: Cotton, Federal Politics, and the Global Origins of the Civil War, by Brian Schoen
Lisa Gillis ................................................................. 185

CONTRIBUTORS .......................................................... 187

COVER: Blast Furnace Bay View by Edmund Lewandowski (1938). See “From Mayville to Milwaukee: The