

IA, THE JOURNAL OF THE SOCIETY FOR INDUSTRIAL ARCHEOLOGY
Volume 15, Number 1, 1989

EDITORIAL ii

ARTICLES

A Narrow Window of Opportunity: The Rise and Fall of the Fixed Steel Dam
Terry S. Reynolds 1

The 1822 Allendale Mill and Slow-Burning Construction: A Case Study in the Transmission of an Architectural Technology
Richard M. Candee 21

Manufacturing Secrecy: The Dueling Cymbalmakers of North America
David H. Shayt 35

New England's Gasholder Houses
Mary E. Pyne 54

RESEARCH NOTE

Belting Archeology
William Worthington, Jr. 63

REVIEWS

Darcie A. MacMahon, Archeological Collections Management at the Saugus Iron Works National Historic Site,
Massachusetts Nicholas Honerkamp 65

Joseph E. Stevens, Hoover Dam: An American Adventure
William F. Willingham 66

ALPHABETICAL INDEX (Vols. 1-14)
David R. Starbuck 68

CONTRIBUTORS 78

COVER: "A Broken Belt-All Hands Idle-Moral: Buy the Best Belt."
From Asher & Adams' Pictorial Album of American Industry (New York: Rutledge Books, 1876, reprinted in 1976), p.172. See William Worthington, Jr., "Belting Archeology," pp.63-64.